D. Dr. Bill Gorth, President of National Evaluation Systems spoke briefly about his organization and what they can offer Georgia.

From our PastIn 1969 NASDTEC members were reminded by President Wendell Allen of Washington that they should not be viewed as “guardians of the gates” but rather as “openers of doors.” Dr. Allen contended that we should encourage competent people to come into the profession rather than throw up barriers to keep them out. He said: We are in the ‘eye’ of the hurricane which is the atmosphere of educational change , and we should face up to the challenge. Let’s help the old order in teacher education change, rather than defending the status quo and putting out brush fires. The Association must reevaluate its role in teacher education with the objectives of making its role one of real leadership in the area. . . . ARE WE MAKING THE GRADE?
